DIGITAL SCHOLARSHIP

Digital Creative Scholarship Activities: Funding for all digital scholarship activities below provided by US Department of Health and Human Services (HRSA). Award No. 1 T94HP30918-01-00. Advanced Nursing Education Workforce: Academic Practice Partnerships Today for Competent Practitioners Tomorrow.

The UNCG School of Nursing Advanced Nursing Education Workforce (ANEW) Project digital portal (<http://libresearch.uncg.edu/nur/dnp/>) was created for nurse practitioners, nurse practitioner students, nursing faculty, and registered nurses to provide resources on the social determinants of health, health literacy, cultural competency, and adult gerontology management. In collaboration with UNCG alumni and other nurse practitioner colleagues, 17 evidence-based continuing nursing education modules were developed and made available for free from this digital portal (<https://libresearch.uncg.edu/nur/tutorials/>). The continuing education modules were approved by the North Carolina Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation and provide both contact hours and pharmacology contact hours.

Created a google site to house 23 video simulations and faculty guides which are freely available for use by nursing faculty at UNCG and across the nation for nurse practitioner education. The videos are licensed by Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 International License. This comprehensive multi-media package containing video simulations and faculty guides can be accessed from the UNCG School of Nursing Advanced Nursing Education Workforce Project digital portal (<http://libresearch.uncg.edu/nur/dnp/>) or directly from <https://sites.google.com/uncg.edu/uncgschoolofnursingnewproject/home>.

The digital scholarship activities below involved writing video simulation case studies based on current evidence-based best practices and the 2016 adult gerontology primary care competencies; recruiting and training patient actors, community preceptors, and nurse practitioner students; collaboration with the film crew; video editing; developing and integrating interactive multiple choice questions using H5P software; and creating faculty guides for incorporating case studies into face-to-face and online classes for nurse practitioner education and nurse practitioner preceptor development.
